Djembe Alchemy Learning Hub

Courses and resources for students of Djembe Alchemy. During a term of classes we will post in the Learnign Hub, resources related to the rhythms we learn along with technique tips and other useful information. This is to aid the student learning journey for those that want to practice. It is not essential to practice or use these resources in order to participate in Djembe Alchemy in-person classes, some people just like a one night a week of just switching off from other aspects of life and just drumming, that's okay. Some people like to take it a bit further though and your journey will be easier and quicker with a bit of practice. If that's you, then this is your place to learn, revise and practice.
